Miss Barbara Ungerleider
Station WCRS
Smith College
Northampton, Mass.

Dear Miss Ungerleider:

On April 30 and May 1, the Intercollegiate Broadcasting System will hold its Spring Regional Meeting at WRUC, Union College, Schenectady, for its member stations. We are extending this invitation to colleges in the area to send one or more student representatives to this meeting to explore the possibility of establishing a carrier current station on their campuses.

Briefly, campus "carrier current" stations are operated by the students to produce programs, usually of professional quality, for their own experience and for the entertainment of the campus residents. About one hundred men's and women's colleges and universities throughout the country operate such stations. In this Region they include Clarkson, Rochester, Champlain, Cornell, Samson, St. Lawrence, Union, R.P.I., Keuka, and Bard. No license is required from the Federal Communications Commission and programs are received by students on their standard radio receivers without any attachments. Stations may be put in operation for as little as $200, although the installation at WRUC, for instance, has grown to a value of $20,000.

If you are able to send several observers, we suggest that they be chosen according to their interests in radio, such as programming, business, and technical (a knowledge of electronics is not essential). We would particularly like to invite a member of your faculty or administration to meet with Union's Coordinator of Student Activities, Mr. Wilford H. Ketz. Mr. Ketz was the faculty advisor of WRUC while it was being planned and built, and can probably make suggestions of value from the administrative side to schools thinking of establishing a campus radio station.

The group will meet at noon on April 30 for an informal inspection of the WRUC studios. In the evening the member station representatives will hold their business meeting, while department heads from the stations will hold discussion groups in which your observers are invited to join. Sunday morning and early afternoon will again be an informal discussion of individual station problems.

We would appreciate a reply as soon as possible as to whether or not your school will be represented. If you wish, we will make reservations for your party at the Hotel Van Curler. To aid in this and other planning we would appreciate as soon as possible an estimate of the number of representatives you expect will attend. We are sending a copy of this letter to the Chairman of your student body, but would appreciate a reply from a member of the administration so that we may know your official standing. If we can be of assistance in any way, please do not hesitate to call upon us.

Sincerely yours,

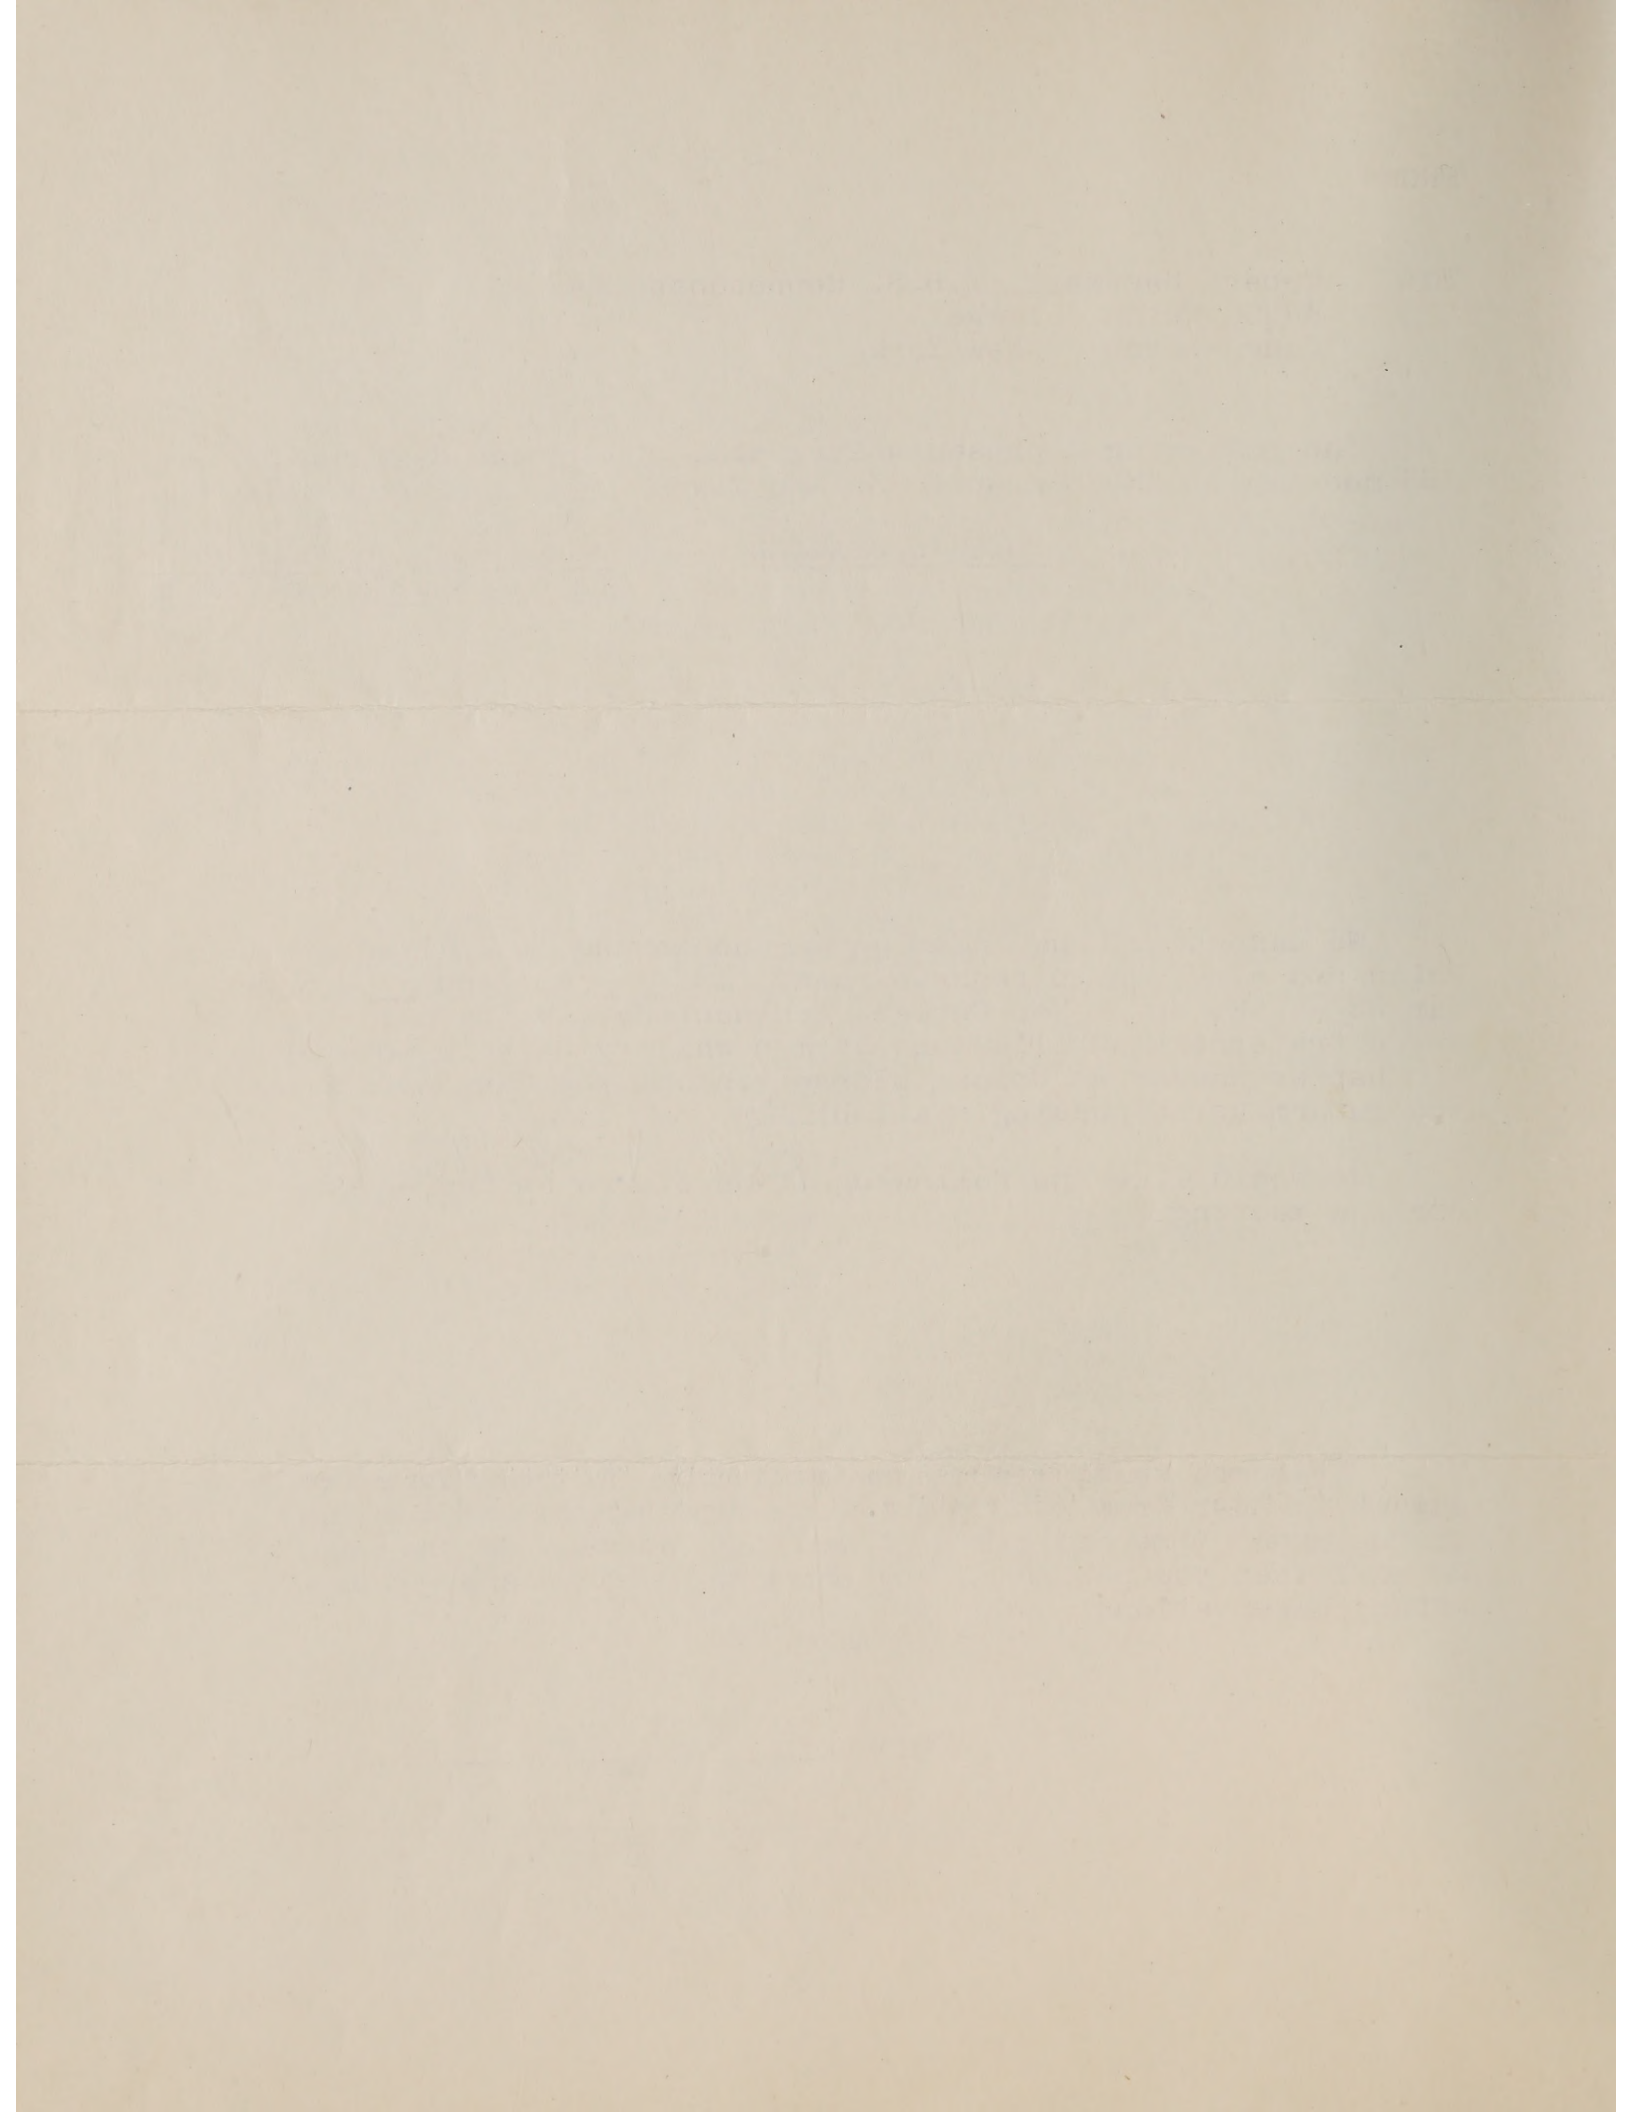

Robert Hartwell
IBS Representative
WRUC, Union College
